

THE CALL

A BIWEEKLY PUBLICATION OF ROANOKE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

VOL. 11 - Dec. 9, 2015

Bright Ideas

Co-op supports innovation in education

Roanoke Electric Cooperative did it again, providing funds for innovative classroom learning projects in the community. See why it's ongoing support of "Bright Ideas" is opening new doors of academic opportunity for local youth. Read more.

The Response

What if there is an attack on power grid?

In response to a recent reader query, Roanoke Electric Co-op sheds light on the many steps that have been undertaken to safeguard against potential threats to the nation's electric grid. Read more.

Community Profile

Making a difference in rural forestry

As a local young boy, he longed to do something that "mattered." Today, Alex Martin is all grown up and doing just that, recently joining forces with Roanoke Electric Co-op to confront some of the unique challenges in North Carolina's forestry industry.

Read more.

REC Solutions

Savings on tap with holiday shopping app

Want to get some great discounts when shopping locally this holiday season? There's an app for that! When member-owners use Roanoke's Co-op Connections Card or download the app when making local purchases, great savings may be in store. Read more.

Special Announcement

Co-op offices set to close Jan. 1

The co-op's office will be closing Friday, January 1, to perform required year-end procedures. During that time, no payments will be processed. Co-op systems will resume processing payments on Monday, January 4, 2016. Members-owners participating in the prepay program are encouraged to make payments early this month.

CHECK OUT

The many ways you can stay plugged in on important energy issues:

The Response

Flashes

The Call \(archives\)

Carolina Country

Join Our Mailing List!

Contact: Brittany Tann, Editor

Roanoke Electric Cooperative, Aulander, NC

252-209-2236

Like me on Facebook

Follow me on twitter

